Combined into a single program, more than 20 powerful keyboard shortcuts, designed to speed up your workflow. KEYMACRO allows you to save a lot of time and rework by copying your normal keyboard shortcuts to a macro and modifying them into a function that you need. Are you tired of retyping the same keystrokes all the time? You can type a custom shortcut by pressing a key combination that normally you use only once. KEYMACRO does not require an additional program such as AutoHotKey to record, modify and load. As soon as you finish recording a custom shortcut, KEYMACRO will store your new shortcut and it will always be accessible by clicking the "Enable/Disable" button. With custom keyboard shortcuts, even the most repetitive tasks can be performed quickly and easily. With many similar features as before, the biggest difference in this update is the ability to take and share your selfies. You can make the most out of your phone by either immediately saving the pictures to a gallery on your device or setting them up in your web browser to be shared on the web. You can set the functions on a day or week basis, so that you can check on them any time of the day. Sharing pictures over Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, or through email is also possible. All you need is a modern web browser. If you connect to more than one social media account, each one will be displayed in its own menu. If you do not want to make all pictures public you have the option to share the pictures only with selected contacts. There is a built-in browser as well, which means that you do not have to install any other browser application. Nova 5.7.0 has the ability to search with your voice so that you do not need to type anything. All you need to do is to speak what you want. The app is also capable of tracking your favorite contacts, such as Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and LinkedIn. To keep it all organized, the Calendar screen displays all appointments and reminders. Not only that, but you can now create a single calendar. This means that you can organize everything into one calendar instead of using separate ones. Performance has been improved as well, including the result views of the search. Some bugs have also been fixed, including the QR-code scanning, which was previously a little fuzzy. Location-based services are here to stay and we know that they can help a lot of 2edc1e01e8
