"This could be the only leopard habitat in the world to be housed inside the world's fastest lifts," said Oliver Dillaman, a field guide at the Panthera conservation group which has not changed the leopards' habitat but repositioned lifts. The leopards have nested on one floor in the new high-speed elevators of the new Opera House in India since it was built in 2016. But five years ago the site was an open drain, and the construction company Unilink Group said the leopards could not be disturbed. Lions were also being protected in the space, Unilink said. The situation was unacceptable, said Dillaman. "Being confined to one floor of an elevator will not provide the right balance in terms of the leopards' well-being," he told the Thomson Reuters Foundation. In the last 16 years, the
