The old people [are] caught in an ennui of post-religious life.... The most depressed older people are often those who are in touch with their religious and spiritual feelings. So, some atheists are some of the most depressed people on earth. Why? Atheists can't worship either an omniscient God or the nebulous "God particle." They can't wait for the Rapture to come and thus leave their "living dead" behind. They know that no one ever said "except for the Atheists." So, therefore, they are stuck with the moral ramifications of living in a world (and universe) without God. So, they face a stark reality — basically, life after death is a "choose your own afterlife," and they don't like what they've chosen.Q: How to create a sorted dictionary from another dictionary using Python's built-in functions? I have seen this question with the accept answer, but I want to know if there is a better way to make a sorted list/dictionary out of a dictionary with Python's built-in functions. My only idea was this, Make the list as a dict, Sort the dict in reverse based on the first column, Make it as a dict, but with the reversed key:value pairs. def sorted_dict(d,column): return {v:k for k,v in d.items() if k[0] == column} for i,x in enumerate(d): sorted_dict(d, i+1) Is there a better way to f988f36e3a
