Xforce 2017 keygen BIM 360 Design 2008 32 bit.zip.q: A question about understanding a proof I am reading a proof of a result about orthogonality of vectors and i dont understand some part of the proof: Could someone please explain how they got from (1) to (2)? Thank you. A: It's a simple application of the completeness axiom. Let X_S be the one-dimensional vector space over $\mathbb{R}$ spanned by α and let $Y = \{w \in \mathbb{R}^2 : w \perp \alpha\}$ be the hyperplane perpendicular to α . Then $X \cap Y = \{0\}$ and $X \cup Y = \mathbb{R}^2$ (why?), so it follows immediately that $X \cap Y$ is a subspace of X_S (why?) and $X \cup Y$ is a subspace of $\mathbb{R}^2$. Since X_S is closed under scalar multiplication, we can write $X = \mathbb{R}x$ where $x = \frac{1}{\|x\|} \{\alpha\} \alpha$ and $x \perp X$ (why?).
